THE OLD PACIFIC AND THE NEW

EDITED BY CHAS. F. LUMMIS

A magazine wholly unlike any other published anywhere. . . . The best there is in periodical literature on the Pacific Coast. . . . Ability and individuality powerful enough and original enough to give distinction to any periodical. . . . A voice listened to with respect and interest in all parts of the country."

"Its lively independence and its genuine learning. . . . A steady evenness of worth and interest."

Dear Muir:

It is a long time since we have had any word from you, and I don't know whether you were in the earthquake belt or where. Naturally we feel anxious. If this comes to your hand, will you not please let us know as soon as possible where you are, and what you are, and who you are, and what the thunder you are doing?

I have been in bed for 4 days trying to have pneumonia, but am about to give it up in disgust.

When you come this way again, please bring me a full-sized Sequoia for my Library Roof-garden.

Remember us all to the girls.

With love,

Always Your Friend,

Chas. F. Lummis
