 also here last summer
 for two weeks, they all enjoy the change.

Cecilia is still in Portland and Grace was usually well at her last writing.
 When Mary last wrote, her letter was dated from Denver, she and Willis were visiting.

Dear Sister Emma:

The year
 has almost gone again
 and it will soon be Christmas, and I want to bridge the distance
 and wish you and yours
 a glad and happy holiday season. May the New Year hold for you and the girls many blessings from our kind Heavenly Father with good health to enjoy them.

We are all pretty well here

Anna is always busy, the children are growing fast and getting on well at school. David has built his new house just a few steps from ours. They are much better in health since coming to the Cove, and enjoy living here. Will is running the Rancho while they are away. We had a very pleasant visit with David's two daughters the past summer. Carrie had her youngest son with her and Anne had her two little girls. Then a short time since Sandra and her husband came for two or three days. I had a letter from John lately. Helen is pretty well, but still gives him cause for anxiety she has never quite recovered her usual strength. Maggie has been feeling better than usual for a while, but took cold and had a touch of grippe which took away her strength again. I hope that by this time she is better again. She and John have moved into a new cottage of their own which she enjoys. May Coleman
