Dear Mr. Muir

I am deeply touched at your letter of 2nd just received - We all grieved much over poor Doran - I had grown to look upon him as a real friend + loved him + he a true man - I am glad to have cleared his friendship with you.
I am fortunate in having many friends + am indeed proud to count you among the best - My troubles are not to be considered with ^{mine +} some others for they are only passing + will be eventually cleared up + understood even by the "Some" to whom you refer.

The responsibilities weigh most when such misfortunes occur as the loss of the poor passenger who passed on with brave Doran.
