I like the arrangement of the book very much. The illustrations are wonderful. Well done. Faithfully yours John Muir

Anyhow we have our judgment on the matter.

March 17, 1913.

Dear Mr. Muir:

We herewith enclose a letter from George Wharton James, which explains itself.

Will you kindly let us know whether or not you wish us to comply with his request?

Yours very truly,

Dear Mr. Pierce, I don't mind Mr James reviewing my Boyhood in out West. But I don't approve of his plan for a 16 page article. He has already written a 22 page article on J.M. in "The Craftsman" made up of quotations from my books, private letters, & fiction, without a word of permission from me.
