My dear friend

Thank you

so much for the beautiful portrait. I like it greatly.
You see how much easier it is for photographers to satisfy your friends than mine! You don't even like the little picture I sent you last. But behold what I am enclosing this time —
just what you ask for,
a photograph by Dassonville.
Do you like this any better?

The took a great many negatives and this one was the best.

You know I shall be only too pleased to have some copies of your new book to give to friends. "Two Magnum" is almost
too generous a supply,
but there would be no doubt about this all being appreciated.

The bookstores here
are too stupid for belief. I cannot imagine

Since not having an ample supply of anything you publish.

I am going down to Los Angeles tomorrow night - or rather to Pasadena - to spend a week with the Willards.

Ever affectionately
yours

Katharine Brooks
