J. D. Schneider,

[Nov. 25, 1950]

Dear Sir:

In reply to my last letter you mentioned the 20th of this month as the time you would attend to your notice. I have waited five days. I will wait 2 days more, after which, if you do nothing, I will no longer wait, but put the matter in the hands of Mr. T., our lawyer. Foreclosing the mortgage only makes expense and trouble. I have waited long. I will no longer wait than the two days mentioned above. If, then, you do not appear on or before the 27, I will write no more. The lawyer must do the rest.

[John Muir]
