Dear Mrs Wilson

I send by post today two books which I hope you will read as two long letters from me. I have three or four others to write should I live long enough, & when one writes books letter writing is sure to be sadly neglected

I was glad to hear from you direct through Wanda. I'm fairly stuped with book work but nevertheless I'll try to visit you the next time I'm in Oakland How fast the years have sped since last we met. Remember me to Mr Wilson & our Forbestown friends. The coming spring & summer weather will I hope renew your husband's health. Come & see when you can & believe me ever sincerely Yours John Muir

Martinez.

Dear Mrs. Wilson:

I send by post today two books which I hope you will read as two long letters from me. I have three or four others to write should I live long enough, and when one writes books letter writing is sure to be sadly neglected.

I was glad to hear from you direct through Wanda. I'm fairly <sup>stupid</sup> ~~stupid~~ with book work, but, nevertheless, I'll try to visit you the next time I'm in Oakland. How fast the years have sped since last we met. Remember me to Mr. Wilson and our Forbestown friends.

The coming spring and summer weather will, I hope, renew your husband's health.

Come and see when you can and believe me ever

Sincerely yours

JOHN MUIR.

Wanda called on me in Oakland where I was living since 1894

He died in 1904

She visited the Muir in Martinez in 1905
