You are coming
 soon to the East, Holm Lea is ever
 ready to welcome
 you, its inmates
 eager to see you once more within their gates. With renewed
 thanks & appreciation,
 believe me to be dear
 Mrs. Miner,

HOLM LEA
 BROOKLINE.

My dear Mr. Miner -
 It was indeed
 good to receive your book, and know that you
 had not altogether forgotten your Brookline friend & admirer. I shall take the book to the ^[2] Coast of Maine, & there reveal in its contents, and keep it ever among my Chief treasures, the more so because it bears your name with mine on its pages. But I am going to be very puddy, & seemingly ungrateful, by reminding you that you promised me your photograph, and I have always so wanted it — still am so anxious for it that I venture to plead my cause! I do hope that
