

John Muir Correspondence (PDFs)

1902-01-01

Letter from Alex Ross Matheson to [John Muir], [ca. 1902 ?] .

Alex Ross Matheson

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/muir-correspondence>

Recommended Citation

Matheson, Alex Ross, "Letter from Alex Ross Matheson to [John Muir], [ca. 1902 ?] ." (1902). John Muir Correspondence (PDFs). 4805.

<https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/muir-correspondence/4805>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by Scholarly Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in John Muir Correspondence (PDFs) by an authorized administrator of Scholarly Commons. For more information, please contact mgibney@pacific.edu.

the living creatures, that go to make up a perfect farm It is an oasis of rest to the tired body and weary brain, but I am tiring you out, what about yourself. You ~~are~~ ^{are} fine I would still proclaim you young enthusiastic of the life, still looking for some little gem among the flowers, a lower world to the picturesque ground in nature. I shall study you more and more and praise the volume before me and shall wait impatiently for an answer what of your brother. I have not heard from him

031/9

Since we were at the Community of Ruskyan
together.

I will send you a report of the hospital in which I was actively engaged.

Good bye your friend
Alex Rossentubae.