My dear friend:

It seems almost too
good to be true that you can accompany
us to the Yosemite. Mrs Osborne is perfectly delighted and so am I.

We are leaving Southern California and shortening our stay in these lovely parts - in order to give us more time

in that glorious valley which you know and love better than any one else in the world.

We reach the Seiwmont Hotel, San Francisco tomorrow, Wednesday
evening, and go out to Berkeley - to spend the day (Thursday)
and evening with my friend Prof. H.
Merriam.

You greatly interested in this exploration on the Pacific Coast which parallels mine on the East.

Please address me in care
