130 Fulton Street,
New York City.

My dear Friend:-

I was in my office for a little while yesterday - Sunday - morning, of course only to secure and read letters from my wife, but incidentally found yours and enclosed at once a copy of Secretary Ballinger's order, which had come to my office only the day before. I should be glad to read the editorial that you are to have in the Independent.

I shall be more than glad to pass on to Mrs. Watrous your kind regards and if I get to New York during the summer, shall hunt you up either at the office or at your residence.

Sincerely yours,

Richard B. Watrous
