Home, March 10, 1904.

Darling Helen: I hope to hear from you today. Yesterday I sent a gold bug box which I hope you will enjoy. I got home

Sunday morning. The ground is drying at last & the country looks green & flowering. Peach in bloom & the Calindrinia etc.

I saw Wanda at the hospital Monday. She seems happy & comfortable & hopeful.

Send that deed as soon as possible. The buyer is very anxious to get it.

Fondly hoping the cold you have may not prove serious, I am ever your devoted father & friend
John Muir.
