Mr. John Muir.

My dear Mr. Muir:-

When I called upon you last June I had no thought of the possibility of writing you up. But after I came away it seemed too bad not to make a note of my most delightful call and its impressions. Before sending it away for publication I want to put - not your blessing upon it, for I fear what might not be granted - but to be sure what I am not wronging you or your readers in any way. If after looking the ms. over you wish return it in the enclosed envelope I shall leave it as no indication that you do not absolutely approve the article.

Thanking you again for the pleasure I receive from my call I am, my dear Sir, Most sincerely yours,

John W. Buckham
