July 14, 1911.

Dear Mr. Putnam:

Many thanks for your kind farewell note of July 2. I congratulate you on your visit to Mt. Rainier, one of my favorite mountains. I had hoped to get a day's quiet visit with you at your home long 'ere this but I have been driven unmercifully in correcting the proof of one book and writing the last quarter of another one.

I recall your Manhattan dinner with the greatest pleasure. It forms one of the finest experiences of the many that I have enjoyed since leaving California.

I expect to leave New York for the Amazon on the 15th of August. Sincere thanks for your good wishes.

May your journey to icy Rainier bring you a glorious share of mountain health and mountain wealth.

Faithfully yours,

John Muir.
