Dear Dr. Muir

Not knowing your present - whereabouts, I am writing to your home address to thank you for the booklet, which I received in N.Y.

I read it - carefully & must say it is splendid (Although I did not - actually cry).

I often think of the pleasant voyage & the nice little arguments we had on the Denis. It does a muggin like me lots of good to listen to older & wiser heads. I confess our arguments broadened my mind considerably.

Wishing you long life & happiness wherever you may be & with

Sincere thanks for the book.
I remain truly yours
