Mrs. John Mair

Dear Sir—

I am working as a public school teacher in the foreign population of Boston, & in connection with my work as an Eighth Grade Teacher I am preparing a reading-book.

I read your biography when it first came out, and when I reached the story of your "lock invention"

I felt that I <sup>could</sup> wish every boy and girl in the land could have the inspiration of your life.

May I have the privilege of a short selection from
"The Story of my Boyhood and Youth" for that purpose?

Assuming you of my hearty appreciation of such a favor, I am

Very truly yours,

(Mrs.) E. B. Harvey
